FRANKLIN PUTS BLAME ON ELSASS FREIGHT OWNERS

Australian Consignees Never
Sent Invoices or Had Goods
Entered, He Says

Holding in Honolulu of the valuable cargo discharged from the former German steamer Elsass is entirely due to the failure of the Australian consignees to send their bills of lading and invoices here and have the goods entered in the United States for sale, or for export.

This, in effect, is how the customs officials answer the reported complaint of Charles M. Terry, an American citizen, but a resident of Sydney, Australia, regarding the failure to have the cargo sent to those to whom it was consigned.

Some of the Australian firms to whom the cargo was consigned have already either entered their goods here and paid their duty or had them disposed of by local representatives. E. O. Hall & Son have sold some of the cargo, mostly cement. About three-fourths of the total cargo has been taken from the customs warehouse in this manner.

As to the complaint about the way the cargo was stored, it is explained that it is mostly "rough goods," such as brick, steel, cement, wire, pianos and some dry goods.

Naturally, the goods are not in as good condition as they were three years ago when shipped from Germany to Australia.

The charge that $850 per month is being paid for the Iwilei warehouse in which the goods are stored, is preposterous, says Collector M. A. Franklin.

"I myself made the arrangements with E. P. Fogarty for the construction of the Iwilei warehouses, after bids for warehouse space had been asked. The cheapest bid received was 35 cents a ton. Then Mr. Fogarty agreed to erect a warehouse in which the Elsass cargo could be stored for a rental of $150 a month. This amounts to about 10 cents a ton and the United States government charge for storing unclaimed goods is 50 cents a month, which the Australian firms will have to pay if they take out the goods, the income from the warehouse going to the government," says the collector.

The reason that a warehouse had to be rented was that the government had none available when the Elsass cargo was ordered discharged here.

Chamber Discusses Matter

At a meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning the Elsass cargo matter was discussed and it was decided to bring the matter before a general meeting of the entire chamber where its attitude on big questions of this kind will be sought.

The report of the committee on maritime affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, said, in part:

"Upon the discharge of the general cargo on Pier 16, it was found to be in perfect order, and all sorted out as to marks, as is customary. However, there were no manifest or shipping papers to identify in any way the owners of the cargo, nor any one here at the time representing them. After being discharged on the dock, there being no one to take delivery of the cargo or to arrange for its transshipment to any other port, it eventually came into the class of unclaimed freight under the jurisdiction of the U. S. customs authorities, which, under ordinary circumstances, would be forfeited to the United States government. The shipment was therefore taken over by the collector of customs and delivered to a special warehouse for storage, located at Iwilei. At the time warehouse space was at a premium, and it was necessary to arrange for the construction of a special warehouse to receive the shipment.

"In connection with this particular shipment, notwithstanding that it is in the class of unclaimed freight, the collector of customs here has received directions from the treasury department at Washington to allow the owners of the cargo upon presentation of the necessary shipping documents, and if desired for delivery here, upon proper entry thereof as required by law, and upon the payment of all charges including duty, storage, drayage, etc.

"In the matter of the responsibility for the cargo being here at the port of Honolulu necessitating extraordinary charges against the same at the expense of the owners thereof, we feel that this is a condition brought about entirely on account of the state of war existing between the United States and Germany, and the ordering of the Elsass was a usual procedure under the circumstances. It was the misfortune of the owners in having their cargo aboard a German vessel. It was also a matter of regret, perhaps, that the cargo was not handled in a more satisfactory manner in being placed in storage.

"If there is any relief due to the owners of this cargo, it occurs to us that this is a matter that might more properly be taken up with the United States government through the proper diplomatic representatives of owners of the cargo, and not through the Chamber of Commerce. We have to recommend, therefore, that the Chamber of Commerce take no action in this matter."

Overwork in continuous knitting for American soldiers and sailors so undermined the health of Mrs. Catherine Peiz of Brooklyn, that she became despondent and committed suicide by gas.

It frequently happens that a man discovers too late that his failure to advertise has cost him his business.

CHURCH LEAGUE MAY GROW OUT OF SMITH VISIT

Fred B. Smith, who left for the mainland this morning with Mrs. Smith, was the principal speaker at a gathering of leading churchmen of the city last evening at the Christian church. Representatives from fourteen local churches were present.

Mr. Smith proposed that the churches of the city get together on some plan to organize a live inter-church federation with a paid secretary. He said that the loss of power of the church in a community was due to sectarianism and the failure of the churches to cooperate.

He cited the necessity of work in the schools, the need for the suppression of vice, and the maintenance of law and order. He argued that a recruiting campaign with the denominations working together, would bring real results.

Following the talk the council named a committee of six to plan for a live church federation. The committee named was as follows: J. P. Erdman, R. B. Anderson, Prof. Vaughan MacCaughy, W. P. Thomas, J. A. Rath, W. G. Hall and F. J. Lowrey. R. H. Trent presided at the meeting.

A plan to blow up a United States transport failed when a man carrying a powerful bomb was arrested in Brooklyn while going up the gang plank of a seized German ship.

SOLDIER JAILED AS SUSPECT IN WAIKIKI THEFTS

Two soldiers have been placed under arrest, pending further investigations by the detective bureau, in connection with a series of robberies and attempted robberies in Royal Grove, Waikiki, during the past two weeks. Albert Dempsey, 13th Company, Fort Ruger, was arrested last night at 7:30 o'clock by two civilians, as he was attempting to enter the residence of Lieutenant Drinkwater on Kuhio street, it is alleged. The other soldier, Private Whitson, was ordered arrested, and the military authorities at Fort Ruger are holding him until the investigations by the police develop.

According to the two civilians who apprehended Dempsey, they were sitting on a porch across the street from the Drinkwater residence, when two soldiers stopped in front of the officer's house. One of the soldiers paced up and down in front of the house, evidently keeping watch for anyone who might disturb them, while the other soldier crawled on his hands and knees past the shrubbery and onto the lanai, where the civilians allege he attempted to open a window. The two civilians rushed across the street and caught the man who was on the porch. The man on watch escaped. Dempsey, the captured soldier, was booked at police headquarters for investigation, and is alleged by the detectives to have declared that Whitson was the other soldier in the affair.

The detectives have not decided whether or not Dempsey is connected with the other numerous attempts at robbery which have been reported by Royal Grove residents during the past two weeks, although nearly all the attempted and successful burglaries have occurred between the hours of 7 and 7:30 o'clock, the same time as the attempt last evening.

A Japanese was arrested two weeks ago and sentenced to imprisonment for robbing the Cunha residence at Royal Grove, and since then numerous complaints have been sent to the police. Detectives have been stationed in the vicinity of Royal Grove for the past week, but owing to the full moon last night, they were withdrawn.
